UNI - Ente Nazionale Italiano di Unificazione

UNI - Italian Organization for Standardization - is a private association founded in 1921 appointed by the Italian government and the European Union to develop, approve and publish technical standards in all economic sectors (industry, trade and services) except for the electric and electrotechnical ones.

Standardization is developed by 57 UNI commissions and 14 independent associated bodies to which specific sectors are delegated.

Every year about 6.500 experts representing all interested parties (industry, trade, users, consumers, public administration, testing laboratories, research institutes...) take part in standardization works.

In most recent years standards production averaged about 1.500 documents per year and at 31.12.2005 valid UNI standards were about 16.500.
